Trackoholic: Your Daily Inventory Manager

Overview of Trackoholic

- Inventory management System
- Applications for business as well as personal
- Due to this, Trackoholic is accessible by all users.

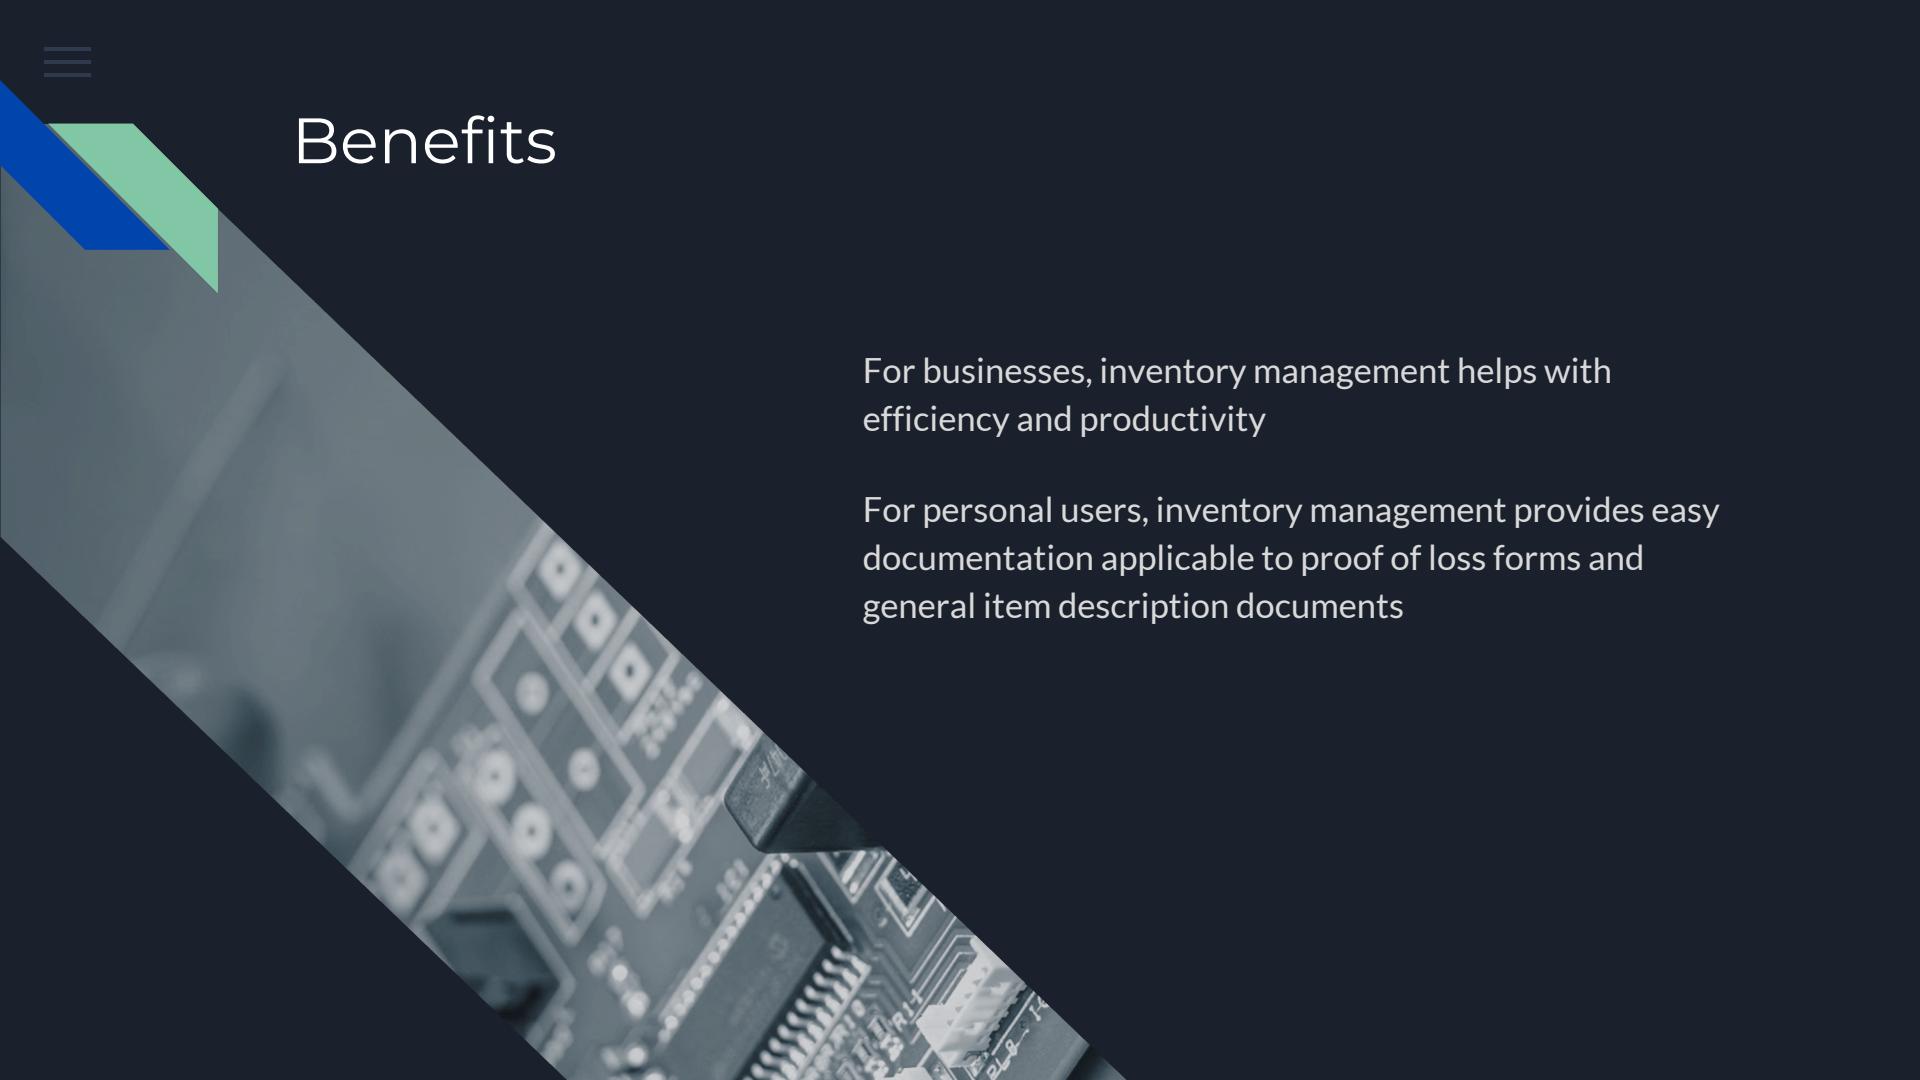

Understanding the problems

- 01 For business use, inventory management is a necessity to maintain stock, maintain price, manage place, manage time, as well as balance costs.
- 02 For personal use, inventory management is a quality of life investment.

Benefits

For businesses, inventory management helps with efficiency and productivity

For personal users, inventory management provides easy documentation applicable to proof of loss forms and general item description documents

Development

- Working with Android Studio
- Java rather than Kotlin as we are all more familiar with the former
- Utilizing SQLite for permanent data storage
